Work Camp at Frakes

The Frakes Work Camp has its base of operations at the original site where Hiram Frakes began Henderson Settlement. Although the Settlement has been able to provide many services to the community, there is still a great deal of need. The Frakes Campus is open year around and can house up to 200 per week. There are many levels of construction, and many on campus projects waiting for you to adopt.

Work Camp at the White Oak Center

The White Oak Center opened in the summer of 2001, and since then, during the summer months, many teams have been based out of this facility. Up to 48 people can be housed and fed. Work teams are scheduled through the Work Camp Office at Henderson Settlement, and a project manager is on site at White Oak to assist the teams during working hours.

In our Online Library you will find documents and information that you'll need to be ready for your visit to Work Camp. We ask that you start with the checklist, and that will guide you through the steps that you need to take to prepare for and organize your trip.

OVER 90 YEARS OF HISTORY

In 1925, Hiram Frakes, a Methodist minister, came to the Laurel Fork Valley in southeastern Kentucky with a dream of educational, economic, and spiritual reform. Local families donated 123 acres of land and Frakes started a school for the area. It opened in the fall of 1925 with 13 students.

That was the beginning of Henderson Settlement. The vision has shifted focus over years to meet the changing needs of the community

Today, over 90 years later, Henderson Settlement still provides opportunities for the communities we serve.
