

Sermon Academy

This workshop is a gathering of those who rely on and value words to help people connect to the Living Word. During our time together, we will focus on preaching possibilities for the Lenten journey, exploring both lectionary and non-lectionary options for helping people live toward the joy of Easter. We will talk about the practical aspects of sermon preparation that help real faith connect with real life.

Those of us who have had the good fortune of living under The Grand Story of the God who makes and keeps covenants, who moves toward us in love and is never willing to let the worst be the last – we have a high calling and holy opportunity to use the moment of proclamation well. As pastors, words are our tools, and during this day we will reclaim the power and practice and art of effective preaching.

WHEN

Tuesday, February 13th, 2018

12 noon - 3 pm

WHERE

Henderson Settlement

Frakes KY

REGISTRATION

$10 includes registration and lunch
Deadline for registration is February 9, 2018

0.3 CEUs available

For more information and registration:
contact Mike Feely at 606-337-3613 ext. 320 or madir@hsumc.org

FEATURING •

Rev. Rusty Taylor

Rusty Taylor is the Director of Congregational Development and Revitalization for Holston Conference. He was appointed to this position in 2013 and previously served in this capacity in the South Carolina Conference. Originally serving as a pastor in Holston Conference, he is married to Bishop Mary Virginia Taylor and has two daughters and three grandchildren.